But before passage, opponents' amendments had skimmed off the cream of the bill the dairymen wanted.

As passed by the Senate, the bill would bar out-of-state milk from Texas unless a Texas inspector certified he had personal knowledge the milk was produced under standards as high as those required in Texas.

Amendments took out the "personal knowledge" phrase and provided the milk could be imported on the certification of out-of-state health authorities after a Texas authority had found the out-of-state producer to be meeting acceptable standards.

Also heard was a bill by Rep. Maco Stewart of Galveston which would levy a 10 per cent corproate income tax, repeal the oil well servicing tax and reduce the sulphur tax.

These member-owners of the 77 electric cooperatives serving Texas, borrowed money at interest to build their own electric systems. They are paying back principal and interest on the loans while enjoying a steady dependable source of electricity from a first rate electric system. The electric cooperatives of Texas are paying their own way with interest while building a brighter tomorrow.
